Hello everyone. This week we will review science for a quiz on Wednesday. We will also be reviewing math and previously covered vocabulary. Spelling tests will start this Thursday. Students will not study for the spelling we will learn how to spell phonetically we will be covering long i and long u. In science: We will have the frog life cycle project that should be submitted no later than Sunday October 7th. The kids will watch a video about how to do the project and I will forward it to u in a link on Dojo. As you all saw I sent a reading log. Each kid should read at least 2 pages daily they should write the name of the book and author and parents should sign I will add these pages on the reading chart in our class. If all kids read for a whole month I will make a pizza party in the middle of November.
